Summary

Over the last 10 years I have developed a wide range of websites from simple HTML websites to Full dynamic websites. I have a passion for helping small businesses get off the ground and running. My strength lies in the fact that I build sites to make money online. So I have the insight to provide consulting on what internet based technology tools to use as well as helping them put those tools to use. I love doing all aspects of building websites from front-end to backend.

Also, for the past 5 years I have worked as a blockchain developer.
